The siren call of privacy is getting more and more high pitched. And while there are plenty of private travel experiences to try, the allure of having a private island all to yourself may just be the most exclusive, most personal, most private experience out there.

And guess what? You don't even have to leave the country to find it (although if you want to, there are plenty of options for that, as you'll see below). Private island rentals range from a small splotch of land with a no-frills house, to a massive compound with a private chef, to an extravagant resort buyout with a complete staff and all the amenities you could ever want—and the prices rise accordingly.

So gather your squad and check out these private islands that can be all yours.

If you're ready to hop on a long plane ride—and can fly or sail privately—Fiji might be the ticket. The government recently announced that the country is open to private planes and yachts only if you buy out a private island resort for 14 days. Otherwise, Fiji's borders are closed. But with 333 islands that make up the country, it's easy to imagine the number and variety of private island resorts to choose from (as long as money is no object!).

Kokomo Private Island Fiji in the Kadavu region is cradled by the world's fourth largest reef, the Great Astrolabe. There are 21 ultra-luxe villas, each with its own private pool, tropical walled garden, expansive ocean view, and direct beach access, as well as five larger residences. Kokomo also has a 5.5-acre farm and incredible spa.
