The act of traveling to Kokomo Private Island Fiji is an adventure. Your trip begins at a private hangar at Nadi International Airport, where you're served fresh snacks and drinks before boarding a helicopter or seaplane to reach Kokomo Private Island Fiji.

The resort is found at the edge of the Great Astrolabe Reef, one of the most extensive fringing coral reefs in the world and a haven for incredible marine life like manta rays, reef sharks, sea turtles, and soft corals. Though it's easy to spend all day scuba diving, snorkeling, and learning more about the island's resident manta population through Kokomo's collaboration with Manta Trust Fiji, a marine conservation organization, you'll want to make plenty of time for the onsite spa and hilltop yoga shala.

Accommodations range from romantic beachside bures with private infinity pools to spacious family-friendly villas with panoramic views. Dining on Kokomo Private Island Fiji is a unique experience that manages to blend a laid-back ambiance with fine dining cuisine. Menus are updated daily with many dishes crafted from ingredients grown on the island's farm. One-bedroom bures start at $1,995 per night.
