

Travel / November 3, 2020

You can now rent this awe-inspiring Fijian island resort for $65,000 a day

by Ekta Joshi

If a year of quarantine has got you to wander lust like never before, we have just the deal for you! Enter Fiji's Kokomo Private Island that is now available on rent for a cool $65,000/day. It includes world-class accommodations, premium services, and the best of nature -all under one roof.

Located on the Kadavu Islands, south of the Fijian mainland, the resort spreads across 140 acres in total. It is surrounded by the Great Astrolabe Reef, renowned for its world-class diving, fishing, and snorkeling. Guests at the property can also indulge in surfing, sailing, and kayaking and gaze at stunning waterfalls on their stays.

The island is home to 21 one-to-three-bedroom villas, each complete with its own deck and infinity pool. It also features five new luxury three-to-six-bedroom residences that offer panoramic views of the ocean and a 5.5-acre farm. The resort can be booked for a total of 120 guests at once.

In addition to the water sports, guests can also enjoy workout sessions, spa treatments, and wellness consultations at the resort or hike the many scenic trails across the property. Therefore, the property provides a sustainable approach to luxury and is an ideal pick for a staycation. Fancy a Fijian Holiday before the end of the year?

Link: <https://luxurylaunches.com/>