

FAST ADVENTURES IN FIJI, A LAND WHERE TIME STANDS STILL.

Life in Fiji is slow and steady.

“Fiji Time” is an actual recognized unit of time and excuse for everyone being extremely late to everything and sleepy afternoons under the trees are a common activity.

But if you just can't sit and lounge by a pool for seven days straight and you are always on the search for your next adventure like me, you will be happy to know that there is a long list of action-packed adventures that you have to choose from on this archipelago of islands called Fiji.

Every time I have come to Fiji, not only am I blown away by the natural beauty, kindness of its people, and dedication to the environment, but I realize just how little of this country I have really explored.

With 332 islands almost one for every day of the year, there is an endless array of places to discover, fly over, climb, or dive into. As an advanced scuba diver, the first place I ever went diving in my life was off the coast of Kadavu, Fiji and in the first five minutes of my first dive ever, a fleet of giant 14-foot manta rays buzzed over my head, leaving me stunned and speechless and hooked for life. To this day, Fiji is one of the top diving locations in the world

To this day, Fiji is one of the top diving locations in the world makes me realize that not only are there hundreds of islands to explore, but thousands of dive spots and sunken treasures to explore around these reefs as well. In fact, the Great Astrolabe Reef (the third largest barrier reef in the world), is here in Fiji and you are guaranteed to see species you didn't even know existed on every dive or snorkel trip you go on.

One thing that we all can agree on here in Fiji is that life is better spent outside or under the sea.

You can spend a lifetime trying to see everything this country has to offer, so to make it easier on you daredevils and adventure junkies out there, I have listed some of my favorite places and activities in Fiji that are guaranteed to fill up your mind, body, and spirit.

All you need to know is how to greet the locals by saying “Bula Vinaka”, pack your passport and adventurous spirit, and you are all set!

Kadavu Island

This lesser known island is a surf destination perfect for those who want an off-the-beaten track adventure and an authentic Fijian cultural experience. The ideal time for finding waves here is December-April and if you come here you will be rewarded with empty line-ups, beautiful scenery, and tons of other activities like snorkeling, spear fishing, and hiking.

Their top four waves: Soso Passage, Vesi Passage, Naiqoro Passage, and King Kong Lefts. Fiji Airways has direct jumper flights from Nadi to Kadavu (which may be the smallest airport I have ever flown into in my life).

Since there are no roads here, you will be picked up by boat from the airport runway and have to carry your luggage over your head waist-deep in the water to board your boat. The rustic adventure begins from the second you land here!

Kokomo Private Island

An indulgent luxury 6-star resort experience conveniently located between Kadavu's premier waves. Relax and pamper yourself here post surfing.
